

This setting has an Early Years Professional (EYP)

Launched in 2006, Early Years Professional Status represents the gold standard in early years practice.

Early Years Professionals are experts in the development, care and learning of under fives and are an asset to any early years setting.

Early Years Professionals lead and support the delivery of the Early Years Foundation Stage in their setting and work to support colleagues in their practice.

The EYP working in this setting is...

Affix photograph here.

Affix name and job title here.

What does it mean for me and my child?

The Children's Workforce Development Council report that 90% of a child's brain connections will be made by the time they are five. Research has also shown that the development of young children has a direct link to the qualifications of those leading their learning.

Chat to the EYP in your child's setting to find out about the work they are involved in.

Early Years
Professional

